Paul:

Thank you. I appreciate the time you have taken in reviewing our evaluation of the bottom up approach, and can assure you they will be considered in how the assessment is rewritten. Responding to these questions (copied below) will take some effort even if they have all been argued out earlier in various discussions. Given my other responsibilities, I am badly short on time. Alternatively, in order to be responsive to you in a timely fashion we will need to follow up with extensive discussions since both the data and their interpretation are complex.

I am copying Sue because I think this bears upon some discussion of my commitments and time, and David since he has been actively involved in this matter.

Ravi.

Copying your original comments first followed by your emails below for Barbara's record.

Ravi,

I'll be traveling tomorrow and don't expect access to email until late at night. But if you send me the Swenberg 'bottom up' paper, I can get it then or on Monday and have a look.

Later,
-Paul
